

1 A tee shot hit about 220 yards at the birch trees straight away sets up for best approach into this green. Green is tiered right to left so watch where the flag is.

2 Great par three; watch your alignment and club selection. Slightly downhill.

3 Hit away on this par five. Favor the right-center of the fairway for ideal second shot at the wide, but narrow, green.

4 This large green is slightly elevated. Take one extra club but avoid going long.

5 Aim to left of big tree. Long hitters can try the right side but be careful. Fairway and green slope severely left to right. Stay left.

6 Stay left but not too far off this tee. Green is tiered; check pin placement.

7 Left side of fairway set up for a great approach into this green.

8 Long par five. Hit away. What you see is what you get. Avoid going right to avoid the large tree on your approach to the green.

9 Another long par 3 with a larger green. Check pin placement. Looks downhill due to a false front but plays true to the yardage.

Date:

Be careful off this tee. OB to right. Longer hitters can hug right side working the ball left to right. 10

11 Long par five. Lay up if you can't make it in two for a better birdie chance.

Short par 3 for an excellent birdie chance. 12

13 Par five. Hit it long and straight.

This par 3 was designed by Butch Harmon. Enjoy!! Tough back left pin; play it safe. 14

15 Slight dogleg right. Left-center of fairway is ideal for another birdie opportunity.

Another slight dogleg right. Hug the right side for a short approach to this downhill green. 16

17 Time to make up a stroke or two. This risk/reward hole is another Butch Harmon redesign. The old long par three is now a drivable par four; however, do not go long!

Our signature hole! 270 yards to water from the back tees. Enjoy your second shot into this green and be rewarded with cheers from the deck when you clear the water! 18
